MIAMI LIFESTYLE

The experience at Atlantis is the "start up" of something bigger. I discovered the pleasure to meet people from different countries, different religions and cultures. Being an international student and travelling to USA for the first time added to my anxiety. The program is designed and administered so seamlessly that I not only felt 'the warm welcome' but, my faculty and peers have become a support system throughout my stay as well as a network for life. This combination really worked and I feel that I am developing in terms of management knowledge and skills and in personal competencies such as self-awareness, presentations, teamwork, leadership and negotiation. Classes are taught in an interactive fashion, allowing me to build on my own experience by learning from my classmates as well as the lecturer.

Aditya from India.

My most memorable AU experience is not just a single moment in the past, for me, it is having the opportunity to attend the University everyday. To go to class with students not only from the United States, but, from different countries. This memorable experience is allowing me to interact with people of many nationalities. AU is more than a university, it is a meeting place, where you can interact with people of many cultures and have the opportunity to learn from them. AU is not a typical university where you can feel alienated as it many large universities. There is a sense of family or kinship, the staff and professors are always willing to help and work with you in everyway possible to make the university experience worthwhile. Holistically, AU provides an environment for students and myself to acquire valuable knowledge and at the same time form lifelong friendships, thus memorable experiences.

Mohammed from Saudi Arabia

To describe a single most memorable experience at AU would be flat out near impossible! Not only does the university enrich our lives academically but its true strength lies in its ability to seamlessly melt different cultures into one!! Every single day at AU became a new experience, from our diverse and motivated set of unique professors, there was always a family like environment welcoming you.
